

Introduction
(To Each Other and To Genesis!)

1. Take a few moments to introduce yourself. Share why you are here and what you hope to learn from the study of Genesis.
2. Open your Bible to Genesis 1:1-2 and read those two verses aloud. We see that God chose to open His story of His history with the words, "In the beginning, God created the heavens and the earth." If you were to tell your story of your history, how would you complete the sentence, "In the beginning"? (Please add a few additional 'verses' to round out the story of your beginnings.)
3. We're going to be learning a lot about God's character, His actions, His purposes, etc. throughout our study of Genesis. Just from these first two verses, what observations do you have about who God is? Perhaps your group can keep a running list of the qualities of God you see revealed throughout this book.
4. Is there one question you're hoping to have answered this year? If so, please share it with your group.
